

There is a "revolving door" between the pharmaceutical industry and several members of Congress, U.S. governmental agencies. The conflicting interests with pharmaceutical companies and the government should be made more public. For more information on those involved in this "revolving door" please click here.

Revolving Door Between U.S. Government and Industry